BARRY HOLDSHIP FOUR TO ROCK THE FREE SUMMER CONCERT SERIES

The Garden Grove Community Foundation (GGCF) is bringing 50's and 60's rock to the 2009 Summer Concert Series with an appearance by Barry Holdship Four, August 20 at 6:30 p.m. The GGCF holds the weekly Thursday concerts in Eastgate Park, at 12001 St. Mark Street in Garden Grove, at the west end of Chapman Avenue. The concerts are free and open to the public.

Barry Holdship began their career in a deserted Detroit parking lot. Now they are bringing their homage to many 50's and 60's rock hits right here to Garden Grove. In 1997, Holdship released a CD titled "The Jesse Garon Project," which received high praise in both the U.S. and Europe.

Food and beverages may be purchased at the concert from the following vendors: Funnel of Love, Hapa Cup, Oggi's Pizza & Brewing Company, Pops Kettle Corn, U-Doggee, and Valuetina's Pizza. Also, the following vendors will be at the concert: Verizon and William Kiker Novelties.

The final band to play at Eastgate Park is:

August 27
